

Science Zone

We have The Science Zone's After-School Mad Science (fourth to sixth grade) and Mini Mad Science (kindergarten to third grade) programs going on now. These two clubs are intended to help children explore science outside the classroom in a fun and interactive setting. We will be conducting a variety of experiments!

StoryTime Science for Preschoolers is going on now as well. We are excited Jennifer Wistisen has joined the staff as our on-site educator. She served as the director of Camp Invention here this last August and looks forward to working with teachers making their visits to The Science Zone as enriching as possible. With advance notice, Jennifer is willing to develop experiments or demonstrations to help you meet your curriculum goals.

This summer we sent out letters to all principals and PTO presidents outlining the costs and benefits of classroom membership and school-wide membership. The annual classroom membership is a one time fee of $25 and $2 per student enrolled in the class. Membership provides your class with unlimited access to The Science Zone for a year. Come check out all we have to offer. We have attached a coupon to this page that will allow you a visit to The Science Zone free of charge.

The Science Zone is thrilled to announce that we will be hosting a new exhibit in October. We will be setting up and displaying Energy Avenue created by TAL Concepts here in Wyoming. Energy Avenue is touted as the most comprehensive energy exhibit ever created. As always, the exhibit is hands-on and completely interactive! It includes components detailing most energy sources currently available. The exhibit is designed to engage visitors in the exploration of all sources of energy from extraction of raw materials, transportation methods and conversion.

Our first Night at the Museum was such a success that we have decided to make it a monthly event featuring pizza, popcorn, homemade soda, movie and a live science experiment!!! Life doesn't get much better than that! We will announce the dates and times in our monthly newsletter. To keep current on all our activities, please take a minute to e-mail knickerson@thesciencezone.org and we will add you to our mailing list.
